A New Year, A New Schedule and Renewed Fun.
The first month of 2013 is gone and Bocce season is taking off. There was 1 Raffa tournament in January which filled up fast. There were 16 teams and a few others on the waiting list. This brings up an interesting point.

Last year there were many Open tournaments that didn't fill up. It seems that a lot of people that play as much as possible have decided to play only Raffa, therefore the Open tournaments aren't filled. Another reason I hear from people is that it's always the same people that win or get 2nd or 3rd to win the money.

When my wife and I started playing we would go to as many tournaments as we could. Back then they were all double elimination tournaments so we would play two games and then sit and watch all day. But by playing against the better players it makes you a better player. Now, with most tournaments being round robin, you get to play at least three games and sometimes four. As for the same people winning all the time; it just gave us something to shoot for. After playing and losing a lot we started to get a 2nd or 3rd place win and even a 1st place win a few times.

On another subject; in an effort to get more people playing in the open tournaments the Western Sector Board has come up with a few ideas. One thing going on is the tournament that Ben Musolf has in Livermore where the winner gets a trip to Italy. This isn't a USBF tournament but this was Bens way of getting more people involved in bocce. I don't know the particulars but I'll bet if you contact Ben he will fill you in.

Another thing being tried is David Canclini is having a tournament on March 16th for B players only. Now what makes a B player is debatable but I think most people know if they are or not. If you don't I will bet Mr. Canclini will help you decide. I hope there is a good turnout for the events that keep the "loaded teams" out because we as the Western Sector Board want to see each and every tournament filled and more and more people playing the game we are all so hooked on.
Thoughts and Reflections by Frank Rivera

We had a real community effort in reporting the first USBF tournament of 2013. Chris Bond knew that I would be unable to attend, so he volunteered to take photos for me, cautioning me that he might have to leave early. I told him that as long as we get photos, it doesn’t matter if he left early; I’ll try to get winners photos from Ron Jacobs, my usual source. Chris took a lot of photos for me, and when he left early, the camera got passed around. Joining in on the photo taking were Ron Jacobs, Sharon Cooper, Carol Del Prete and David Camardo. I ended up getting over 40 photos because of their involvement. Thanks, guys.

There are two tournament applications in the main body of this month’s newsletter. Normally we don’t do this, instead putting them after the “Upcoming Tournaments” page. I am going to make every effort to shy away from this policy in the future, but because both of the tournaments required memos describing the tournaments, or relaying rules not normally used in most tournaments, it was decided to include the applications along with the description memos. After this month, all tournament applications will appear in their proper place.

Well, I was hoping that I’d get some emails from people to put in this column. I didn’t. This month, I’m trying something new. I started a page called Letters From Our Readers (page 4). With a pretty direct title, maybe some of you will write. I hope so. On the other hand, so what if nobody writes? It might be an indication that everybody is happy with the USBF. Maybe so. Probably not.

I know that a lot of the members of USBF, if given an opportunity, would tell you what they’d like to see different; what changes they’d like to happen. Personally, I’ll take the chicken way out. I’m not going to tell you of any changes I’d like to see take place at this time. Some day, perhaps, but not now. I do have a few thoughts on something I’ve heard more than once, though. My personal opinion may or may not jibe with yours. Let me know. That’s what page 4 in this issue is for.

One of the things I’ve heard from a number of people is the sentiment that the same people win all the time. Yeah. They’re right. We see maybe twenty or twenty-five of the same people in the winners pictures. Not all of the time. But most of the time. Bummer. Sure takes the fun out of playing bocce, doesn’t it? If your answer to that question is yes, then maybe it’s time for you to find a new sport, my friend. My team and I never let something as minor as winning get in the way of having a plain old good time.

I love to play bocce. My wife Cynthia loves it too. So do Bob Enea and Jennie Rouch, the other two players on team Mezzanotte Luna. We have no problem driving from the Monterey area two or three hours to the Northern California venues to play even though we all know the chances of winning any tournaments aren’t very good....yet. Maybe someday we’ll see our names among the winners in this newsletter. We don’t really worry about it, though. As much as we’d all like to win, that’s not the main reason we play. We play for the love of the game. That’s how we approach it; the love of the game. I think most bocce players see it that way. So for those of you who don’t like to see the same names in the winners lists all the time, there is something you can do about it. I give you the same advice the New York cabbie gave when asked if he knew how to get to Carnegie Hall; Practice, man, practice.

This page is a new addition to our newsletter.

Hopefully, anybody who feels they might wish to write to us to express an opinion, ask a question or simply make an observation, will. This is your forum do so. If you have a question we can’t answer, it will be forwarded to whomever we feel might provide the best answer. Should you like to make an observation or express an opinion, please do so.

Other than being civil, there are no rules at this point. Being a member of the USBF is not a requirement to write. As this newsletter is read beyond the boundaries of the Western Sector, we invite all who wish to write to please do so. This new section is for the good of bocce everywhere, and all are invited to join in the conversation.

4th Annual In Celebration of Mari Grillo Memorial Tournament in 2014
Players from Oregon and Washington took part in the first ever, "Frigid Pole" bocce tournament held at the Paesano Bocce Club’s indoor facility January 19th. If you’ve ever seen the Paesano’s indoor facility, you would know why we called this the “frigid pole’ tournament.

Although the building was a little chilly at the onset of the tournament, the bocce play wasn’t. The team “La Famiglia di Favale” started the day hot and thanks to the two youngsters on the team remained hot all day taking home the gold medal. The name Favale comes from the town of “Favale di Malvaro” near Genoa in Italy. Nick Rossi and his two sons Mike and Chance are my cousins and our family comes from Favale.

Another team that started out on a good note was the team “Too Big To Fail”. A fitting name for Paul Barasch, Judy Johnson and Chuck Just who are all CPA’S. Gary Thompson was the only non CPA on the team. Their name held true all day until they played “la Famiglia di Favale in the finals losing 12-9.

The team Paliquali finished third. I’m not sure where that name came from but it was a creation of Vince Cacuccialo who has a knack of coming up with some great team names. Paliquali team members Ben Mititiero, Vince Cacuccialo, Tony Aiello and Mark Terp played well all day and were the tournament favorites going in. They finished off “Deoons Posse” Mario Pompei, Wayne Pompei, Don Filippi and Tom Lattanzi 12 – 7 in the 3rd place game.

A New Concept In Raffa
Developed By Jerry South and Margaret Shindelus

SPLIT TRIPLES
By Jerry South

Here is a summary of the SPLIT TRIPLES raffa game that I presented at the January 6th Western Sector meeting at Campo di Bocce in Livermore.

OBJECTIVE: To increase the opportunities for raffa players to play singles within a three player raffa format. And also, to speed up the conventional raffa triples game.

FORMAT AND GAME FLOW
1. Two teams of 3 players
2. The players on each team are numbered 1,2,3
3. Coin toss for pallino
4. Player 1 on each team go to opposite end of court (call it East end). Player 2,3 on each team remain at West end as Doubles teams, 2 balls each player.

FRAME 1: This is a Doubles match, 2 balls each. played just like conventional raffa doubles.

FRAME 2: There are now 8 balls at the East end. Player 1 from each team then compete in a Singles match, 4 or 2 balls each, you have an option.

FRAME 3: Players 2 from each team go to the East end, switching with Players 1 who return to the West end and join Players 3. Now, we have a reformed doubles team at the West end (Players 1 and 3 from each team) and new singles players at the East end (Players 2 from each team.) Frame 3 is now a second Doubles match, 2 balls each, Players 1 and 3.

FRAME 4: There are now 8 balls at the East end. Player 2 from each team play a Singles match, 4 or 2 balls each. Frame 4 is a second Singles match, 4 or 2 balls each, Players 2.

FRAME 5: Players 2 go to the West end, switching with Players 3 on each team. The reformed doubles teams are comprised of Players 1 and 2 from each team. Player 3 on each team are at the East end. The third doubles match now takes place, two balls each, Players 1 and 2.

FRAME 6: This is the third singles match, 4 or 2 balls each, Player 3 on each team.

FRAME 7: At the beginning of this frame, the teams can go to the East end and start over as outlined above. This switching of court ends provides each player with a new direction for singles play. Continue play until 12 points are scored.

Please note that the singles can be played with 4 or 2 balls each. Two balls makes it a faster game. If 2 balls are used, the additional unused balls must be rolled to the opposite end of the court for the doubles play.

It should also be noted that when a doubles match is in play, one of the singles players can act as referee, and during the singles match, one of the doubles players can so act.

Recently, we tried Split Triples with a drop-in group and several players didn't like it. They said they "stood around" too long when the singles play was in progress. They said, "too slow," and that there was ball confusion.

This was not fair test: The players forgot that in a conventional Open 4 game, there is always one end of the court that is not playing, where the players must wait. Also, there was a time constraint for using the court we played on. There was no time to experiment with a new game. Further, each team should use one set of balls. If you have ball preferences or a mix of 107s and 106's there will be confusion and a slow down. It will take more than one game to get fully accustomed will this new concept. But once this is accomplished, the game will flow smoothly and the players will be more comfortable in the Split Triples format.

WHAT HAVE WE ACCOMPLISHED?
1. Each player has the opportunity to play singles, once every three frames. This extra "singles time" will be helpful for the nationals.
2. There are no more that 8 balls on the court at any time. This compares with the herd of 12 balls on the court during a conventional triples match. The total time for a Raffa 3 tournament should be shortened by at least an hour.
3. With rotating referees from the "other end of the court", the refereeing burden and fatigue factor are reduced.

I hope that two willing teams will try Split Triples, note any problems, and make changes that will improve the game.

2013 USBF WESTERN SECTOR WEST CUP PRV RANKING SYSTEM
January 22, 2013

OBJECTIVE
The objective is for players in singles punto, raffa, volo (PRV) tournaments to win the West Cups. Simply stated, the points earned by each player in singles tournaments will be tallied throughout the season then the top eight men and top eight women will compete at the end of the year (on October 27th) and the winners will be awarded the Men’s or Women’s West Cup trophies. This year, points cannot be gained playing PRV as part of a team – you only get points playing as a singles player. Good practice for Nationals!

FORMAT
From February through October 2013, the four PRV Singles tournaments on the USBF calendar (including Nationals) will be ranking tournaments for individual players. In addition, all 2013 Showdown Series singles events (5 for men and 5 for women) will be ranking opportunities for individual players.

All players entering any of the above PRV singles events will accumulate points for each game they win. At the conclusion of the 2013 season, if necessary, tiebreakers to determine the top eight men or women will be scheduled. Then, these players will compete for the West Cups in one final round robin tournament to be held October 27th at Campo di Bocce Livermore after which the two West Cup Winners will be announced and trophies awarded.

Showdowns will be either for men or women. Before Nationals, the Showdowns will be a maximum of 12-player tournaments, guaranteed two games to play. After Nationals, with better weather, Showdowns will be open to up to 24 men or women. Players at each Showdown will be placed, by random draw, into pools and will earn points for each win. If there are fewer than 4 players registered for a Showdown, it may be cancelled.

REGISTRATION
The 2013 Showdown Series flyer is the registration form for the Showdown events at Campo di Bocce Livermore and at IAC Stockton. Registration for all Showdown events - at Campo di Bocce Livermore or IAC Stockton - will be handled by Heather Veon at Campo di Bocce Livermore. Registration for the other USBF-listed singles tournaments will be handled by those tournament directors. The committee encourages tournament directors to identify those tournaments as singles ranking tournaments on their flyers and registration forms and to notify all clubs ASAP so all Western Sector players have a fair chance to enter.

POINT AWARDS
For all of the Showdowns, a player gets 10 points for each game won in pool play. For the other USBF-listed singles tournaments and Nationals, a player gets 10 points for each game won in pool play AND an additional 30 points for 1st place, 25 points for 2nd place, 20 points for 3rd place and 15 points for 4th place.

ELIGIBLE TOURNAMENTS
The following scheduled events are West Cup ranking events at which points will be awarded. Regular Western Sector tournaments are governed by the rules herein. All Showdowns are governed by the rules herein and the 2013 Showdown Series registration form (both have been sent to all Western Sector players the week of January 21-25, 2013 by Vern Cooper).
